

RACHEL GAUDION FOR VP WELFARE

Learning, Positivity, Support.

For me these are the three fundamental aspects of college which, when the balance is correct, allow each student to thrive and flourish.

My name is Rachel and I'm running for the Welfare and Activities VP position because I understand that being comfortable and confident in your college, having fun and having the support you need leads to a better learning experience.

I am very open, understanding, compassionate (and short!) and will always take the time to listen to your issues, no matter how big or small.

As well as being a great communicator I have an excellent work ethic. In order to study music at Sighthill this year I had to work 3 jobs at once back home in Australia! Now that I'm here I'd love to have the opportunity to help other students to enjoy their time here as much as I have.

If I am elected as Welfare and Activities VP:

- I will ensure all students are aware of the facilities that are available to them
- I will talk to students to listen to your suggestions and answer your concerns
- I will organise interactive, educational and, most importantly, fun days to educate us all on mental health, sexual health, financial planning...
- I will promote college – student communication across all campuses
- Let's organise societies together, increase student employability, battle sexism and inequality and build our college as one!

What changes does Edinburgh College need? Let me know! Keep an eye out for me and please come up and say G'day! If you're ready for change I'm ready to stand for you!
